It pays to emerge with Precision

For uniform germination, make sure seeds are planted at uniform depth for uniform access to moisture. That's how you avoid stragglers that lower your yield.

That kind of precision takes the kind of real-time planting information and depth control you get from 20/20 SeedSense with FieldView plus 20/20 AirForce. It takes the kind of clean rows that you get with cab-controlled CleanSweep. And it takes the unmatched seed-to-soil contact that you get with Keeton Seed Firmers.

Come in and secure your Precision germination tools today for a maximum yield this fall. Ask about managing depth and spacing, too.
