When Europeans first reached the Pinellas peninsula, the Tampa Bay area was inhabited by people of the Safety Harbor culture. There were various chiefdoms in the Safety Harbor cultural region. The Tocobaga, who resided at the Safety Harbor location overlooking the bay, built a village and a huge temple mound there, were one known chiefdom in what is now Pinellas County. The contemporary location is preserved and accessible as a part of Philippe Park in the County.

The Pinellas peninsula (formerly called West Hillsborough) and a large portion of west central Florida were formed as Hillsborough County in 1834. The very next year, Odet Philippe, a French Huguenot from Charleston, South Carolina, constructed a plantation close to the location of the Tocobaga town at Safety Harbor, making him the first permanent non-native resident of the peninsula. Philippe was the one who originally brought cigar-making and citrus farming to Florida.

The most current census has the population of Pinellas County at 959,107. Making it the most densely populated county in the state as well as the 7th most populous.

CLEARWATER (COUNTY SEAT)

Clearwater is located in Pinellas County, Florida, United States, west of Tampa and north of St. Petersburg. 117,292 people called the city home as of the 2020 Census. The smallest of the three major cities in the Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater metropolitan area, sometimes known as the Tampa Bay Area, Clearwater serves as the county seat of Pinellas County. The Tocobaga people originally lived in Clearwater. Fort Harrison, named for William Henry Harrison, was built by the American Army as an outpost during the Seminole Wars starting around 1835. The fort was situated on a bluff with a view of Clearwater Harbor. Following the Federal Armed Occupation Act of 1842, which provided 160 acres (0.65 km²) to anyone willing to farm the land and wield arms, the region's population increased. Early land claimants and farmers included the families of Stevens, Stevenson, Sever, and McMullen. The region was formerly known as Clear Water Harbor before 1906. It is believed that a fresh water spring that was close to where the current City Hall structure is now is whence the term "Clear Water" originated. On the bluff, there were numerous other freshwater springs, many of which were located in the harbor or bay. In 1962, the area was examined by archaeologists from the University of South Florida when Mark Wylie found an underground ammo bunker while he was planting a tree in his yard.

EAST LAKE

East Lake is a US census-designated place (CDP) located in Pinellas County, Florida. It was among the last parts of the heavily populated county to grow, and people frequently mistake it for East Lake in Hillsborough County. The area around East Lake includes natural preserves and conservation areas. There has been a focus on preserving the natural environment and promoting environmental awareness. Today, East Lake is known for its residential character, recreational opportunities, and proximity to the natural beauty of Florida's Gulf Coast. The community has evolved from its agricultural roots into a suburban area that attracts residents seeking a balance between nature and suburban amenities. In 2020, there were 32,344 people living there.

LARGO

Largo is the fourth-largest city in the Tampa Bay area and the third-largest in Pinellas County, Florida. The city had 82,500 residents as of the 2020 Census, an increase from 69,371 in 2000. 1905 saw the incorporation of Largo. It adopted a council-manager system of administration in 1913, making it the first municipality in Pinellas County to do so. It alternated between "town" and "city" a few occasions until reverting to that designation in 1974. Up until the 1960s, it exported agricultural goods before population growth started to turn it into a bedroom community. In 1905, the Town of Largo became a legal entity. To create room for expansion and development, Lake Largo was drained in 1916. Largo's population expanded by roughly 500% between 1910 and 1930. Largo's economy was built on agriculture at the time and for many years later, including citrus groves, cattle ranches, hog farms, turpentine stills, and sawmills. From its heyday as a citrus packing, canning, and shipping hub, Largo is best known as "Citrus City." Largo struggled during the Great Depression because it lacked the money to fulfill its responsibilities. Largo returned to its 1913 charter and limits.

PALM HARBOR

Palm Harbor was largely uninhabited until the 1860s, when settlers began to arrive. Due to the Curlew Methodist Church and the Curlew Pioneer Cemetery, which were built in 1869, the area came to be known as "Curlew". In 1878, "Bay St. Joseph" post office opened. Henry B. Plant first opened the San Marino Hotel in 1881; it would later change its name to Palm Harbor in 1885. After purchasing land in the Curlew/Bay St. Joseph region, the Sutherland Improvement Company developed it into the Sutherland settlement. The Sutherland Post Office first opened in 1888. In 1890, Sutherland was connected to the Orange Belt Railway. In 1925, Palm Harbor was adopted as the new name. Sutherland was home to two exquisite hotels; in 1902, the larger of them became Southern College. There were 61,366 people living in the CDP as of the 2020 census.

PINELLAS PARK

The Florida town of Pinellas Park is situated in the county's center. In 2020, there were 53,093 people living there. The city is Pinellas County's fourth-largest city. In 1914, the city was incorporated. Publisher F. A. Davis of Philadelphia built the city after buying 12,800 acres of Hamilton Disston's land in the early 1910s. With the help of promotional leaflets, Davies attempted to entice people from the north, particularly Pennsylvanians, to the town by highlighting the good winter weather and favorable agricultural prospects. The Florida Association, a business, offered a free city lot in exchange for the purchase of 10 acres of neighboring farmland and set up model farms. The Colony House, a two-story structure, was built to house potential buyers of the available farm plots. The founders planned to grow sugar cane as the main crop on the farms they built. In the city, lots were being auctioned independently by 1912. On October 14, 1914, the City of Pinellas Park was formally incorporated.

ST. PETERSBURG

St. Petersburg is a city in Florida's Pinellas County. With a population of 258,308, it was the fifth-most populated city in Florida and the second-largest in the Tampa Bay Area, behind Tampa. It is the state's biggest city that is not a county seat. Together with Clearwater, these cities make up the second-largest metropolitan statistical area in Florida, Tampa-St. Petersburg-Clearwater, which has a population of about 2.8 million. St. Petersburg is located on the Pinellas peninsula, which connects to the rest of Florida to the north, between Tampa Bay and the Gulf of Mexico. John C. Williams, previously of Detroit, who bought the site in 1875, and Peter Demens, who played a key role in bringing the Orange Belt Railway terminus there in 1888, are credited with co-founding the city. On February 29, 1892, St. Petersburg had 300 residents when it was founded as a town.

Why Recycle?

Recycling conserves natural resources such as Water, Minerals, & Timber. It also helps prevent pollution, reduce greenhouse gases, & saves energy.

Recycling Saves Our Only Landfill!

Pinellas County has one landfill. Current estimates tell us this should last another 75 years. Without recycling efforts, this landfill would reach capacity well before then.

Our Residents Want To Recycle!

Recent survey found that 86% of single-family households in Pinellas County use their curbside recycling program.

Health Benefits of Physical Activity

Major Research Findings

from the Center for Disease Control and Prevention

- Regular moderate-to-vigorous physical activity reduces the risk of many adverse health outcomes.
- Some physical activity is better than none.
- For most health outcomes, additional benefits occur as the amount of physical activity increases through higher intensity, greater frequency, and/or longer duration.
- Substantial health benefits for adults occur with 150 to 300 minutes a week of moderate-intensity physical activity. Additional benefits occur with more physical activity.
- Both aerobic and muscle-strengthening physical activity are beneficial.
- Health benefits occur for children and adolescents, young and middle-aged adults, older adults, and those in every studied racial and ethnic group.
- The health benefits of physical activity occur for people with chronic conditions or disabilities.
- The benefits of physical activity generally outweigh the risk of adverse outcomes or injury.

Guidelines for Adults

- For substantial health benefits, you should do at least 2.5hrs a week of moderate-intensity, or 1.25hrs a week of vigorous-intensity aerobic activity, or a combination of the two activities. Aerobic activity should be performed in episodes of at least 10 minutes, and should be done throughout the week.
- For even better health benefits, adults should increase their aerobic physical activity to 5hrs a week of moderate-intensity, or 2.5hrs a week of vigorous-intensity aerobic physical activity, or a combination of the two activities.

Guidelines for Children and Adolescents

- Children and adolescents should do an hour or more of physical activity daily.
- Aerobic: Most of the hour or more a day should be either moderate- or vigorous-intensity aerobic physical activity.
- Muscle-strengthening: As part of their hour or more of daily physical activity, children and adolescents should include muscle-strengthening physical activity on at least 3 days of the week.
- Bone-strengthening: As part of their hour or more of daily physical activity, children and adolescents should include bone-strengthening physical activity on at least 3 days of the week.
- It is important to encourage young people to participate in physical activities that are appropriate for their age, that are enjoyable, and that offer variety.

Start slowly. Cardiac events, such as a heart attack, are rare during physical activity. But the risk does go up when you suddenly become much more active than usual. For example, you can put yourself at risk if you don't usually get much physical activity and then all of a sudden do vigorous-intensity aerobic activity, like shoveling snow. That's why it's important to start slowly and gradually increase your level of activity.

Intensity Examples

Moderate Intensity

- Walking briskly (3 mph or faster, but not race-walking)
- Water aerobics
- Bicycling slower than 10mph
- Tennis (doubles)
- Ballroom dancing
- General gardening

Vigorous Intensity

- Race walking, jogging, running
- Swimming laps
- Tennis (singles)
- Aerobic dancing
- Bicycling 10mph or faster
 - Jumping rope
 - Heavy gardening (continuous digging or hoeing)
- Hiking uphill or with a heavy backpack

Mosquitoes

Prevention & Health Risks

A MOSQUITO FREE YARD

Create an environment in your yard that invites animals that like to eat mosquitoes. Some things that enjoy eating mosquitoes are: • Bats • Frogs • Fish • Turtles • Birds • Dragonflies

To help repel mosquitoes, plant some of the different vegetation listed: • Citronella • Geranium • Eucalyptus • Rosemary • Basil • Anise • Mint • Marigolds • Catnip • Wormwood • Tansy • Lavender • Cedar • Cloves

Don't have stagnant water sitting around in things like buckets or tires.

BE SAFE WHILE OUTDOORS

When a mosquito bites you it can leave saliva in your body. If the mosquito is infected it can transfer diseases to you. A few of the more common diseases transmitted to people are: • Dengue • Encephalitis • Malaria • Yellow Fever. Mosquitoes can also transmit diseases to animals. A couple of these diseases are: • Heartworm (mostly to dogs & cats) • Encephalitis. To reduce your chance of getting a disease from mosquitoes you can, apply mosquito repellent to your skin and clothing.

RANDOM MOSQUITO FACTS

- More than 3,000 different mosquito species can be found around the world.
- Female mosquitoes feed on blood. Male mosquitoes feed on plant nectar.
- Some mosquito species prefer to feed on animals or reptiles over humans.
- All mosquitoes need water to complete their life cycle.
- One female mosquito can lay over 200 eggs at one time.
- Mosquito larvae only need a week in water to hatch.
- Mosquito eggs can survive for more than five years.
- Mosquitoes can fly around 1 to 2 mph.
- Mosquitoes find food by sight, infrared radiation and chemicals in the air.
- Around 1,000 Americans get ill or die from mosquito bites each year.
- Mosquitoes are a huge food source for birds, bats and some reptiles.

A.L. ANDERSON PARK

39699 U.S. 19 | Tarpon Springs
135 acres make up Tarpon Springs' A.L. Anderson Park, which is tucked away off U.S. 19. This park offers scenic views of Salmon Bay and Lake Tarpon, woodland places for exploring, and cypress trees along the trail's edge.

BOCA CIEGA MILLENNIUM PARK

12410 74th Ave. North | Seminole
The Pinellas Trail leads to the 186-acre Boca Ciega Millennium Park in Seminole. An observation tower in this park offers sweeping views of Boca Ciega Bay. Florida Fish and Wildlife Conservation has designated the park as a stop along the "Great Florida Birding Trail." Pine flatwoods, coastal oaks, hammocks, mangrove swamps, salt marshes, bay heads, and wetlands are some of the park's further highlights.

BROOKER CREEK PRESERVE

3940 Keystone Rd. | Tarpon Springs
At around 8,700 acres, Brooker Creek Preserve is a sizable conservation area in Pinellas County's northeast, where it manages the area's natural resources-including safeguarding its supply of potable water.

EAGLE LAKE PARK

1800 Keene Rd. | Largo
In the center of Largo, on 162 acres, sits Eagle Lake Park. A wetlands area has been restored in this park using local plants. Numerous amenities have a citrus grove theme in keeping with the area's history of citrus farming.

FLORIDA BOTANICAL GARDENS

12520 Ulmerton Rd. | Largo
The Florida Botanical Gardens' 150 acres of formal gardens, picturesque landscapes, and native habitats allow visitors to fully appreciate Florida's natural beauty while strolling through them.

FORT DE SOTO PARK

3500 Pinellas Bayway South | Tierra Verde
With 1,136 acres made up of five interconnecting islands (keys), Fort De Soto Park is the largest park in the Pinellas County Park System. Numerous native flora, including beach plants, mangroves, wetlands, palm hammocks, and hardwoods, can be found on these keys. Each of these species is essential to maintaining and safeguarding the natural world.

FRED HOWARD PARK

1700 Sunset Dr. | Tarpon Springs
Off the coast of the Gulf of Mexico near Tarpon Springs is 155 acres of park and beach known as Fred Howard Park. The park is connected by a 1-mile causeway to a white-sand beach where you may swim and watch the sun set. Wildlife including eagles, gopher tortoises, and fox squirrels have homes in this park.

HERITAGE VILLAGE

11909 125th St. | Largo

JOHN CHESNUT SR. PARK

2200 East Lake Rd. South | Palm Harbor
The 255-acre John Chesnut Sr. Park in Palm Harbor is home to a number of nature paths and is situated next to Lake Tarpon. Combustion engine boats can fit in Lake Tarpon. The wildlife in this park is diverse. The canoe trail connects an internal lake to a landlocked body of water, however it is only accessible to non-combustion motors.

JOHN S. TAYLOR PARK

1100 8th Avenue Southwest | Largo

The 53-acre freshwater lake is located near to the 156.5-acre John S. Taylor Park in Largo, which also links to the Pinellas Trail. The park has a whole disc golf course, a shell route lined with trees, and a lake where boats can be rented for fishing.

LAKE SEMINOLE PARK

10015 Park Boulevard North | Seminole

The 258 acres of Lake Seminole Park in Seminole are designated as a wildlife sanctuary and habitat. Raccoons, alligators, hawks, eagles, turtles, and other animals live in the park. The park offers swings and benches that are positioned to overlook the lake.

MOBBLY BAYOU PRESERVE

423 Lafayette Boulevard | Oldsmar

The preserve, which is located at the northern tip of Upper Tampa Bay, protects a wide variety of highland and coastal plant habitats. Together with the city of Oldsmar, which is in charge of two recreational areas, the 396-acre preserve is managed.

PHILIPPE PARK

2525 Philippe Parkway | Safety Harbor

92 acres of Philippe Park are steeped in history. This park, which is in Safety Harbor, is the oldest in Pinellas County. Visitors are welcomed to the park by the enormous shade trees and the Native American mound. The Tocobaga tribe of Native Americans constructed the Temple Mound. It is designated on the National Register of Historic Landmarks and is the largest extant mound in the Tampa Bay area.

PINEWOOD CULTURAL PARK

12520 Ulmerton Rd. | Largo

RIDGECREST PARK

12000 Ulmerton Rd. | Largo

The 23-acre Ridgecrest Park is tucked away in Largo's Ridgecrest district next to a 5-acre freshwater lake. For outdoor entertainment, this park has a playground and a ball field.

SAND KEY PARK

1060 Gulf Boulevard | Clearwater

In Clearwater, 95 acres of Sand Key Park contain two separate beach and park areas. Sea turtles nest on this park's white sand beach from April to October, and there are seasonal lifeguards on duty. Additionally, the park has benches where visitors can see the salt marsh that supports the local animals.

SAWGRASS LAKE PARK

7400 25th Street North | St. Petersburg

Sawgrass Lake Park, a 400-acre area in the Lealman neighborhood of unincorporated Pinellas County, is the outcome of a special cooperative arrangement between Pinellas County Parks & Conservation Resources and the Southwest Florida Water Management District. One of the biggest maple swamps on the Gulf Coast may be found at this park, where visitors can observe a wide range of species. During the spring and fall migration seasons, the park is visited by thousands of birds. Inside the park, fishing is not permitted.

SHELL KEY PRESERVE

2187 Oceanview Drive | Tierra Verde

Sensitive marine habitats are protected on this 1,800-acre preserve. Shell Key, one of the county's largest uninhabited barrier islands, as well as numerous mangrove islands and extensive seagrass meadows are all part of it. Shell Key is a key study area for shorebird species and one of the state's most significant locations for shorebird breeding and wintering. It serves as a significant recreation hub as well. It is easier to balance both usage by limiting access to the island's northern and southern ends. The public cannot access a key conservation area. Activities like boating, camping, and beachgoing are allowed in the preserve's open spaces. There are no restroom facilities available. Fort De Soto Park has the closest boat ramps, trailer parking, and restrooms.

WALL SPRINGS PARK

3725 Desoto Boulevard | Palm Harbor

The Pinellas Trail in Palm Harbor is connected to the 210-acre Wall Springs Park in Palm Harbor. This park offers a boardwalk and observation area of the natural spring that was formerly utilized as a spa and swimming area. A 35-foot observation tower is also available for viewing the Gulf of Mexico. A picnic shelter, facilities, parking, an elevated observation platform, paved and unpaved pathways, and a 5-foot-wide sidewalk connecting Alt. U.S. 19 to the park are all included in the Wall Springs Coastal Addition, which was added to the park.

WALSINGHAM PARK

12615 102nd Ave. | Seminole

Largo's 354-acre Walsingham Park has a 100-acre lake. There are two entrances to this park: one on 102nd Avenue N and one on Walsingham Road. The park also has a playground, a workout center, and a 6-mile walk.

WAR VETERANS' MEMORIAL PARK

9600 Bay Pines Boulevard | St. Petersburg

St. Petersburg's War Veterans' Memorial Park spans 112 acres. The centerpiece of this park is a manicured Memorial Center with five plaques honoring each of the United States military branches with official flags. The Battlefield Cross, Sundial, and Army Tank are further features of this park. The park offers numerous shady spots from which to overlook Boca Ciega Bay.

WEEDON ISLAND PRESERVE

1800 Weedon Drive Northeast | St. Petersburg

North of St. Petersburg in Tampa Bay, Weedon Island Preserve is a sizable 3,000-acre natural area. With some uplands, it is largely made up of maritime environments. Indigenous peoples have inhabited this area for thousands of years, including those who lived during the "Weeden" (alternative spelling) Island Cultural Period.

Swimming Safety Tips

Swimming is a great way to get some exercise or have fun and can be done by people of all ages. It is important to keep safety on your mind while around the water. Below are some things you should know before heading out to the pool or beach.

- Do not dive into the water unless you know the water is deep enough and free of any hazards.
 - Jumping from cliffs or bridges is dangerous due to shallow water, submerged rocks, trees, or other hazards.
 - Always swim with a buddy and in supervised areas, preferably ones with a lifeguard on duty.
 - Always supervise children closely. Do not read, play cards, talk on the phone, or engage in any other distracting activity while watching children in or around water.
 - Avoid drinking alcohol before or during swimming. Avoid drinking alcohol while supervising children around water.
 - Learn cardiopulmonary resuscitation (CPR).
 - Do not use air-filled or foam toys, such as water wings, noodles, or inner tubes, in place of life jackets.
 - Check the local weather conditions and forecast before swimming.

Be smart...

Take good care of your skin

The skin is an organ and helps protect against heat, sunlight, injury, and infections. This is why it is important to always protect it. Overexposure to the sun can be linked to some skin cancers. Ultraviolet rays from the sun or sunlamps can also cause eye problems, weakened immune system, age spots, wrinkles, and leathery skin.

• Protect your skin

Wear proper clothing like long-sleeved shirts and pants. Also protect your head and eyes with a hat and UV-resistant sunglasses.

Remember that you can also fall victim to the sun on a cloudy day as well as in the winter.

Sunburns increase the risk of developing skin cancer. It is especially important that children don't get a sunburns.

Peak burning hours, according to the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention and the World Health Organization, are between 10 a.m. and 4 p.m.

Reflective surfaces, like water, snow, and sand can reflect sun rays and make them more intense.

You experience more UV exposure at higher altitudes, because there is less atmosphere to absorb UV radiation.

Use a broad-spectrum sunscreen to cover all exposed skin. The FDA recommends using sunscreens that are broad spectrum and have a sun protection factor (SPF) value of at least 15. Re-apply sunscreen throughout the day.

• Protect your eyes

UV rays can penetrate the structures of your eyes and cause cell damage. According to the CDC, some sun-related vision problems cause cataracts, macular degeneration, and pterygium.

• UV index

Before going outside you can check the Environmental Protection Agency's (EPA) UV index. To see the intensity of UV rays for the day. The index measures on a scale of 1 to 11. If its low on the UV index you will require less protection and a high UV index will require a lot more protection.

HURRICANE SAFETY

Top Five Tips

- 1. STAY INFORMED
- 2. SECURE YOUR HOME
- 3. FOLLOW EVACUATION ORDERS & GUIDELINES
- 4. EMERGENCY SUPPLIES
- 5. EVACUATION PLANNING

If authorities issue evacuation orders, follow them promptly. Delaying evacuation can put your life and the lives of emergency responders at risk. They have the most up-to-date information on the storm and can provide guidance on the safest course of action. Remember that each hurricane is unique, so it's essential to stay informed and adapt your plans accordingly. Preparedness and early action are key to minimizing risks and ensuring the safety of yourself and your loved ones during a hurricane.

Boating safety is critical for anyone who operates a boat or spends time on the water. Here are some general boating safety tips to keep in mind:

- Wear a life jacket: Always wear a life jacket while boating. Make sure the life jacket is appropriate for your weight and is U.S. Coast Guard approved.
- Know the weather: Check the weather forecast before you go boating and keep an eye on changing conditions. If you notice darkening clouds, rough winds or sudden drops in temperature, get off the water.
- Use navigation aids: Use navigation aids like buoys and beacons to help you navigate safely.
- Maintain your boat: Keep your boat well-maintained and in good working condition. Make sure all safety equipment is in good condition and functioning properly.
- Avoid alcohol: Do not drink alcohol while operating a boat. It is illegal and increases the likelihood of accidents.
- Watch your speed: Observe speed limits and maintain a safe speed based on conditions. Remember, slower speeds may be necessary in crowded areas or in inclement weather.
- Be aware of other boats: Watch for other boats and be aware of their movements. Always assume other boaters may not see you.
- Know the rules: Learn and follow boating safety laws and regulations. This includes rules for navigation, safety equipment, and right-of-way.
- File a float plan: Always let someone know where you are going and when you plan to return. File a float plan with a trusted person or a marina.
- Take a boating safety course: Consider taking a boating safety course to improve your skills and knowledge.

By following these general boating safety tips, you can reduce the likelihood of accidents and enjoy a safe and enjoyable time on the water.

BUTTERED-UP Steak

Simple meal with a Gourmet Feel

INGREDIENTS

2 steaks (ribeye or sirloin are good choices)

Salt and pepper

2 tablespoons unsalted butter

2 cloves garlic, minced

Fresh herbs (optional)

INSTRUCTIONS

1 Take the steaks out of the refrigerator and let them come to room temperature for about 30 minutes. This helps the steak cook more evenly.

2 Preheat your oven to 400°F.

3 Season the steaks generously with salt and pepper on both sides.

4 Heat a large skillet over high heat until very hot. Add the steaks and cook for about 2-3 minutes per side, until nicely browned.

5 Remove the steaks from the skillet and place them on a baking sheet.

6 In the same skillet, add the butter and garlic. Cook for about 30 seconds, stirring constantly, until the garlic is fragrant.

7 Pour the garlic butter over the steaks on the baking sheet.

8 Place the baking sheet in the oven and cook for about 5-7 minutes for medium-rare doneness, or longer if you prefer your steak more well-done.

9 Remove the steaks from the oven and let them rest for a few minutes before slicing.

10 Serve the steak with any remaining butter from the baking sheet and fresh herbs if desired.

BARBECUE DO'S:

- use proper barbecue equipment and tools, such as a grill, tongs, and spatulas.
- preheat your grill before placing any food on it.
- marinate your meat before cooking to enhance the flavor.
- keep a close eye on your food while grilling to prevent overcooking or burning.
- use a meat thermometer to ensure that your meat is cooked to the correct internal temperature.
- let your meat rest for a few minutes before slicing or serving to allow the juices to redistribute.
- keep your grill and utensils clean to prevent any foodborne illness.

BARBECUE DON'TS:

- use lighter fluid to start your grill. Instead, use a chimney starter or electric starter.
- overcrowd your grill. Leave enough space between the pieces of meat to ensure even cooking.
- use a fork to flip your meat. Piercing the meat can cause it to lose its juices and become dry.
- baste your meat with sugary sauces too early in the cooking process, as it can burn and create a bitter taste.
- leave cooked meat out in the sun for too long, as it can spoil quickly.
- assume that meat is fully cooked by its color. Always use a meat thermometer to check the internal temperature.
- leave your grill unattended while it's still hot. Always make sure to properly cool it down before leaving it.

Enjoy your delicious
buttered-up steak!

So, You want to adopt a dog...BUT WHAT BREED? If the breed is important to you, please consider the following.

- Lifestyle Assessment: Consider your lifestyle and daily routine. Different dog breeds have varying exercise needs, energy levels, and temperament. If you lead an active lifestyle and enjoy outdoor activities, a more energetic breed might be a good fit. If you prefer a more laid-back lifestyle, a calmer breed might be more suitable.
- Living Space: Assess your living space. If you live in a small apartment or have limited outdoor space, a smaller or low-energy breed might be more appropriate. Larger and more active breeds might require more space and access to a yard for exercise.
- Allergies: Consider any allergies that you or your family members might have. Some dog breeds are more hypoallergenic and produce fewer allergens, making them better choices for allergy sufferers.
- Time Commitment: Evaluate the time you can dedicate to training, grooming, and general care. Some breeds require more training and grooming, while others are relatively low-maintenance.
- Family and Children: If you have young children or other pets, look for breeds known for their compatibility with kids and other animals. Some breeds are more patient and gentle, making them better companions for families.
- Temperament and Personality: Research the typical temperament and personality traits of different breeds. Some breeds are more independent, while others are highly affectionate and crave attention. Consider what type of personality would best complement your own.

- Health Considerations: Some breeds are more prone to certain health issues. Research the common health concerns for the breeds you are interested in and be prepared for potential medical expenses.
- Rescue or Purebred: Decide if you want to adopt a dog from a shelter or rescue organization or if you prefer a specific purebred dog. Both options have their merits, and there are wonderful dogs available in both categories.
- Meet the Breed: If possible, spend time with dogs of the breeds you are considering. Attend dog shows or local events where you can interact with different breeds and get a sense of their personalities.
- Talk to Experts: Consult with veterinarians, breeders, or experienced dog owners to gather insights into specific breeds. They can provide valuable information about breed characteristics, care requirements, and potential challenges.
- Consider Adoption: Keep in mind that adopting a mixed-breed dog or a dog from a shelter can be incredibly rewarding. Mixed-breed dogs often combine the best traits of different breeds and can make excellent companions.

Beach Flag WARNING COLORS

Beach flags are commonly used to communicate important information to beachgoers. The color-coded flag system may vary slightly from one location to another, but the following are commonly recognized color meanings:

Blue Flag: This flag is used to signify that lifeguards are on duty and that the area is being actively monitored for safety.

Green Flag: Indicates that it is safe to swim. The water conditions are generally calm, & there is a low risk of hazards such as strong currents or high waves.

Yellow Flag: Caution is advised. This flag suggests that there may be some hazards present, such as moderate surf or currents.

Red Flag: A red flag indicates high hazards & potentially dangerous water conditions. It is a warning that strong currents, high surf, or other dangers are present. It is advised to stay out of the water.

Double Red Flags: This is a more severe warning, & it typically means that the beach is closed to the public. Dangerous conditions, such as strong rip currents or severe weather, pose a significant threat.

Purple Flag: This flag is used to indicate the presence of dangerous marine life, such as sharks or jellyfish. It is advised to exercise caution.

Pinellas County maintains three regional beach parks along the Gulf Coast. These parks offer a list of amenities that include picnicking facilities, fishing opportunities and other items of interest to residents and tourists alike.

- Residents and visitors are reminded to be aware of risks posed by rip currents.
- A $5 per day parking fee is in effect at Fort De Soto, Sand Key and Fred Howard parks.

Travel

Choosing the perfect
destination

What is your dream vacation? Do you want to lay on the beach, hike a mountain or explore a city? Questions like these are a good starting point to decide on where to go. Do research on some different areas and activities that may interest you and any others that you are traveling with to identify the most suitable vacation area.

How long do you plan on being gone? Don't try to go too far or jam in to many activities if you don't have the time. Leave some free time in your schedule to accommodate any unforeseen changes during the trip.

Depending on what type of climate you are wanting to vacation in, plan your trip for an appropriate time of the year in that area. Also watch out for peak seasons at some popular vacation destinations. At these times prices may be higher with larger crowds.

Plan:

- Research and learn about the area you are heading to
- Check the Travel Advisories for your intended destination
- Pack the appropriate clothing and supplies you will need for your trip
- Have a backup plan in case of injury or illness while on your trip
- Let friends or family know about your trip

Protect:

- Make sure the food and water in the area is safe to consume
- Protect your skin from the sun and insects
- Don't take any unnecessary risks
- Keep an eye on your health while traveling & when you get back
